SUMMARY

Product professional transitioning from Product Owner to Product Manager, with a technical foundation in Computer Science and Cybersecurity. Experienced across the full product lifecycle — from discovery and roadmap definition to sprint execution and stakeholder alignment — within agile, high-scale environments. Combines engineering rigour with a user-first mindset to ship products that move the needle.

EXPERIENCE

Product Owner · Blip · Flutter Entertainment Group

Jan 2026 - Present

Porto · Agile/Scrum · Squad of 5-10 · 🏆 Promoted from Associate PO

- Own and prioritise the product backlog, translating business strategy and user needs into well-defined epics and user stories for a cross-functional squad.
- Define and maintain the product roadmap, aligning engineering, design, and business stakeholders around a shared vision and delivery timeline.
- Lead product discovery sessions — user interviews, competitive analysis, stakeholder workshops — to validate assumptions and inform roadmap decisions.
- Track product performance using KPIs and data analytics, identifying trends and iterating on features to drive continuous improvement.
- Successfully shipped multiple features end-to-end, coordinating cross-team dependencies and release planning.
